Muhammad Anas Tarakji MD

Dr. Tarakji is a medical oncologist and hematologist at The Cancer Center at Presbyterian.

PRESBYTERIAN

Muhammad Anas Tarakji, MD joined Presbyterian in 2011 and is board-certified in medical oncology and hematology. Dr. Tarakji believes that treating cancer is about tailoring therapy to each patient while attending to the emotional well being of his patients and their families.

For more information about The Cancer Center at Presbyterian, or to schedule an appointment, call (505) 559-6100.

akji Muhammad bio card.indd 1 8/8/12 12:01 P

Education and Training

Dr. Tarakji received his medical degree from the University of Aleppo in Syria. He completed his internal medicine residency at the University of Indiana in Indianapolis, Indiana, and an additional three years of fellowship training in hematology/oncology at Baylor College of Medicine and MD Anderson Cancer Center in Houston, Texas.

The Cancer Center at Presbyterian

The dedicated physicians, nurses and other highly trained support staff at The Cancer Center at Presbyterian work together to provide exceptionally skilled and caring cancer treatment for each of our patients. We are proud that our patients tell us that we provide them with the "best of the best."

The Cancer Center at Presbyterian coordinates cancer care among all needed medical services, and patients have the valuable services of nurse navigators to help guide them through treatment, social and emotional needs and financial arrangements. With Presbyterian Healthcare Services' network of hospitals, clinics and medical specialties, we are uniquely prepared to treat the whole patient.

During your treatment, various healthcare professionals will be working with you to provide you with the best care possible.

PRESBYTERIAN

www.phs.org

akji Muhammad bio card.indd 2 8/8/12 12:01 P